Eve Clennell, MD,
of Eden HR Consulting

Established in 2005, Eden HR Consulting are based in Horsham and work with businesses across the country.

Eden HR Consulting was founded to deliver expert HR advice to any business, delivering the highest standard of support and guidance.

The company also manages the implementation of new processes and procedures from hiring to firing and everything in between to help keep any business legally compliant.

In 2010, Adam Clennell approached us having had an issue with the Local Authority in respect of their business which was, at that point, based in a home office.

There had been a problem with an interpretation of planning legislation which caused some disruption to the business.

We contacted the Chief Executive of the relevant Local Authority and he took an immediate and personal interest in the case. Once the facts were identified the issue was quickly resolved and no further time wasted.

Eve Clennell, MD of Eden HR Consulting, said “With the contacts within Cadia, the issue was taken up without delay and a resolution would not have happened without Jeremy’s intervention.

“Furthermore, the quality and number of referrals to our business has increased dramatically and Membership fulfils all of my networking requirements.”
